The Capital's most exciting dates for your diary

Christmas Lights Switch On

Mark the start of the most magical time of the year with the Chelsea Christmas Light Switch-On, taking place on Saturday 20 November 2021.

From 2pm on the 20th, enjoy celebratory performances on stage and roaming entertainment across the neighbourhood, pick up artisanal treats from the festive Fine Food Market at Duke of York Square or enjoy Christmas cocktails on the Sloane Square Winter Terrace whilst soaking up the atmosphere on the King's Road, part-pedestrianised for the very first time. Father Christmas and a little local hero, a child from the top of the 'nice' list, will be switching on the lights this year, with the unmissable moment taking place at 5pm.

And, to add a little sparkle to your Christmas shopping this year, mark Saturday, 4 December in your diaries for the return of the Chelsea Christmas Shopping Event. Expect a glittering host of neighbourhood offers, promotions, and entertainment for all the family, including the much-loved complimentary horse and carriage rides.

Visit chelseachristmas.co.uk for the full programme of festive fun.

Private Dining in Chelsea

With Christmas parties on the agenda, Chelsea's private dining rooms are the perfect spots for making Christmas that little bit more magical. Whether it is for a more intimate occasion or you are just after somewhere with a little privacy, here is our round-up of the rooms to book this festive season.

Beaverbrook Town House

115-116 Sloane Street, London SW1X 9PJ
beaverbrooktownhouse.co.uk

For an unforgettable backdrop, The Butterfly Room, named after the collection of exquisite butterfly prints that line the lacquered mirror walls, is the perfect space for something more intimate this Christmas. With sit down dining for 12, truly superlative Japanese cuisine and exclusive access to a private perfumed garden, Beaverbrook Town House will ensure this is an occasion to remember.

Harry's Dolce Vita

27-31 Basil Street, London SW3 1BB
harrysdolcevita.com

Easily missed unless you are in the know, the Canaletto Room can be entered through a private door. Beautiful oak paneling, striking Murano glass and venetian mirrors creates the perfect setting for an elegant affair that seats 14, whilst seasonal Italian-inspired menus, either available as a la carte, set menu or Italian sharing plates, are sure to delight and impress. The canape menu is also exceptional for those wanting to add something extra to their festive feast.

The Five Fields

8-9 Blacklands Terrace, London
fivefieldsrestaurant.com

Michelin-starred restaurant, The Five Fields, is a dining for eight for lunch and dinner. The 18th Century cartographer John Rocque (the restaurant's name) sits on the first floor and is a short walk from the streets. An elegant adjoining lounge is available for aperitif.

The Cadogan, a Belmond Hotel

75 Sloane Street, London SW1X 9SG
belmond.com

With private dining for up to 50 in the Oscar and Lillie rooms, named after local icons Oscar Wilde and Lillie Langtry, Suite 118 (the hotel's largest suite, and famed for being the location of Oscar Wilde's arrest) can also be hired with the option of private dining for 8. Enchanting interiors, dedicated butler service and unbeatable privacy help ensure that the hedonist spirit lives on. Work with the team of expert chefs to create your tailored menu, for whatever your party size, of imaginative British dishes for all dining occasions.

The Cadogan Arms

298 King's Road, London SW3 5UG
thecadoganarms.london

The Rose Room seats up to 40 in the newly renovated The Cadogan Arms, coming with its own private bar and a mesmerizing, unique stained glass wall. Require screens? A number have been discreetly hidden behind paintings. Genius. The Christmas set menu has been curated by Executive Chef, Alex Harper, and offers three courses for £60pp. An excellent canape menu must not be overlooked, nor should the option of 'Late Night Food' – we see you eyeing up the fried chicken buckets and blue cheese dip...
