Easter Special: Adults Sewing Project

11-13th April, The Fashion School
Thefashionschool-uk.com

A three-day course inviting you to bring in your own projects and work alongside the experienced fashion tutors at The Fashion School, with access to their state of the art sewing machines to transform your visions, or drawn designs, into wearable garments. Suitable for both beginners and more advanced.

Groove Den ft. James Morton & Alex Hutchings

14 April, The Pheasantry
Pizzaexpresslive.com

Join one of the most exciting saxophonists of his generation, James Morton, who has dazzled audiences for over a decade with his technical brilliance alongside Groove Den. Expect funky and soulful saxophones, blistering guitar solos and deep heavy grooves, taking you on a journey from New Orleans to the urban streets of Bristol.

The Only White

4-22 April, Chelsea Theatre
Chelseatheatre.org.uk

The retelling of the true story of a desperate fight for freedom; the story a white man executed for political activities in Apartheid South Africa, as well as a story of love, courage and comradeship.

Ai Weiwei: Making Sense

7 April - 30 July, Design Museum
Designmuseum.org

One of the most significant artists of today, this is Ai Weiwei's first exhibition providing a commentary on design and what it reveals about our changing values. Through an exploration of material culture, he investigates the tensions between past and present, hand and machine, precious and worthless, construction and destruction.

Op Telic: 20 Years On

19 April, National Army Museum
Nam.ac.uk

Hear first-hand accounts from a British veteran who took part in the invasion of Iraq in 2003. Join Lieutenant Ian Cross, WO2 Andy Abbot and Lance Sergeant Bob Giles as they share their personal experiences, each bringing their own perspective.

Family Activity: Chocolate Workshop

11 April, Chelsea Physic Garden
Chelseaphysicgarden.co.uk

Roll up your sleeves and learn how to create your very own chocolate treats, with the opportunity to experiment using a variety of botanical ingredients. Suitable for the whole family (from 5+), follow the journey from how chocolate is grown, to how it is made into the bars we love today.

The Ronnie Scott's Soho Songbook

27 April, Cadogan Hall
Cadoganhall.com

The Ronnie Scott's All Stars take to the stage, straight from the internationally renowned jazz club, with an evening of archived images and footage alongside world-class music and narration. Enjoy music from the jazz greats and legendary vocalists in this unique occasion celebrating the music and history of Ronnie Scotts.

The Giant Dino Night

28 April, Natural History Museum
Nhm.ac.uk

An evening of exploration and family fun, with an early opportunity to view the giant Titanosaur up close. Make your night extra special by booking their Titano Tour, where experts will guide visitors on a journey through time.

Easter Menus

7th - 10th April 2023

---

Indulge this Easter with hot cross buns and Sunday roasts with all the trimmings.

Here's where to celebrate.

Rabbit

171 King's Road, London SW3 4UP
rabbit-restaurant.com

Alongside their à la carte menu, which is a celebration of farm to fork dining where the meat is sustainably sourced from their bio-dynamic farm in West Sussex, a number of Easter specials will be available exclusively for Easter. Enjoy a Wild Garlic sourdough crumbed Dorset Hogget rack with anchovy chimichurri, designed for two to share, (£68) and finish with a Gorse-infused set cream and baked white chocolate, (£6) for a spoiling feast.

Ottolenghi

261 Pavilion Road, London SW1X 0BP
ottolenghi.co.uk

Get your hands on the gooiest Hot Cross Buns of the year, available at Ottolenghi until 9th April. With a lot more fruit, zest and spice than your average 'buns', the fruit mixture has been macerated in rum and rooibos tea and enriched generously in butter and sour cream, before a secret technique is applied to ensure they remain moist.

Get your hands on them whilst you can!

The LaLee

75 Sloane St, London SW1X 9SG
belmond.com

With dishes inspired by European grandeur, Easter at The LaLee starts with bites of Artichoke leaves and truffle dip, and Montgomery cheese gougères. Then, tuck into Roast scallops with cauliflower, cumin and apple, before indulging in Roast Chicken, stuffed with a combination of brioche and truffle – save space for the dessert counter too, you will be spoilt for choice. Plus, lucky hotel residents will each receive a beautiful handmade Easter egg, created by the Head of Pastry, little ones can participate in Easter Egg Hunts throughout the day.

The Cadogan Arms

298 King's Road, London SW3 5UG
thecadoganarms.london

Join The Cadogan Arms for a lazy Easter Monday and enjoy their famous roasts all-day long. Settle into one of their armchairs and sip on Bloody Marys chosen from their dedicated Bloody Mary menu, whilst tucking into roasties and trimmings in abundance – make sure you order the Cauliflower cheese for something special. Guests can also expect a selection of Easter treats throughout the day, courtesy of The Cadogan Arms' very own Easter Bunny.

No.50 Cheyne

50 Cheyne Walk, London SW3 5LR
fiftycheyne.com

Overlooking the banks of the Thames and beneath a beautiful spring floral façade, lies a delicious menu of Easter specials at 50 Cheyne. Start with Rock Oysters, drenched in crème fraîche, pickled rhubarb and a Cabernet Sauvignon vinegar granita, then follow with a Salt baked wild seabass to share, with buttered baby new potatoes and caviar with seaweed pesto and fresh garden peas. Dessert is a foodies take on the iconic Easter Egg; a Salted caramel chocolate mousse egg, with a fudge brownie and frosted hazelnuts, hot chocolate sauce and clotted cream ice cream.

Wulf & Lamb

243 Pavilion Rd, London SW1X 0BP
wulfandlamb.com

For a plant-based Easter, try Wulf & Lamb and their set menu – available for just £20.95 for two courses, or £27.95 for three. Start with Spicy Gyoza before diving into a Jerk Jack Burger, where your patty is made from Jackfruit, BBQ sauce and smoked paprika, and accompanied by a bucket of, plant-based, fries. For a light bite or a snack to go, don't miss their Easter cupcake and seasonal protein ball, a snack filled with nourishing goodness including dates, cocoa powder, cashews and Dr Watson Reishi's mushroom supplement.
