Chelsea Dog Day

5 October, Across Chelsea
kingsroad.co.uk

Bark your diaries for the return of Chelsea Dog Day, a fantastic day for you and your four-legged friends celebrating one of London's most dog-friendly neighbourhoods. Enjoy a dog-themed market at Duke of York Square along with pop-ups from canine behaviourists, scent-work trikes, complimentary pooch photographers and puppuccinos. Plus, don't miss all the 'pawsome' in-store activities from over 75 of your favourite neighbourhood shops, restaurants and hotels, including dog-friendly ice creams, pawtrait artists, paw readers and more. Find out what's in store at kingsroad.co.uk.

Family Halloween: Paint a Pumpkin!

28 & 30 October, Chelsea Physic Garden
chelseaphysicgarden.co.uk

Calling all little monsters and their grown-up ghouls! Get into the Halloween spirit with a fang-tastic family pumpkin painting session. Explore the Garden's autumn wonders and learn about pumpkin plants before entering the potting shed to bring your pumpkin to life with creative, spooky designs.

DIY chessboard, Afghanistan, 2006
©CrownCopyright

Drawing analogies from the game of chess, a game that offers valuable insights into the principles of strategy, Brigadier James Cook OBE gives an insightful talk charting the evolution of warfare, why it changed as it did from small-scale skirmishes into complex large-scale conflicts, and where it's likely to turn in the coming decades.

Chelsea's 'Roast' Wanted

Whilst we have said goodbye to summer, Sunday Roast season has indeed arrived. Here's where to book.

The Cadogan Arms

---

298 King's Road, London, SW3 5UG
thecadoganarms.london

Sunday lunch at the effortlessly cool King's Road favourite is not to be missed. Peruse the menu with one of their famed 'Bloody Classics' to hand, before diving into a selection of their starters, choosing from black pudding scotch egg and crispy lamb ribs amongst others. Feast on one of three roasts, rump of beef, herb-fed chicken with a brioche and herb stuffing or shoulder of lamb, or alternatively, go all-out and order the Sunday sharing board for the table, featuring each of the three glorious cuts and piles of trimmings: butter-glazed vegetables, potatoes, and the largest Yorkshire puddings in the borough.

No. Fifty Cheyne

50 Cheyne Walk, London, SW3 5LR
fiftycheyne.com

Jason Atherton protégé, Iain Smith sits at the helm and promises a quintessentially British Sunday Roast with beautiful views overlooking the iconic River Thames. Traditionalists can choose from succulent roasted herb Cumbrian chicken and 40-day-aged sirloin beef, with a limited-edition 100 day-aged, belted Galloway beef rib available on a first-come, first-served basis, said to be so tender, the recommendation is to try without gravy. Or, for something different, order from The Grill - try the Cornish Dover Sole or the Surf & Turf, making sure to order several sides where the menu really shines. We know you will thank yourself for trying the cauliflower and leek cheese.

Dinner by Heston Blumenthal

Mandarin Oriental, 66 Knightsbridge, SW1X 7LA
mandarinoriental.com

The brainchild restaurant of Michelin-star Chef Heston Blumenthal OBE has announced its unique take on a British Roast with what they are affectionately dubbing 'Sunday Roast Potato Time'. The menu puts the Sunday side dish, the infamous roast potato, centre stage, and thanks to Heston's long-term research into the best variety to use and cooking techniques, this beloved side dish has had the ultimate glow-up. Never again be tormented with a soggy spud, find comfort in only the crunchiest of exteriors and the softest of fluffy centres. To compliment Heston's perfect potatoes, pair them with the Roast Chicken & Stuffing, the Roast Beef & Yorkshire Pudding or the Roast Cauliflower and Macrows.

The LaLee

75 Sloane Street, London, SW1X 9SG
thelalee.co.uk

This elegant Sloane Street dining room is a stylish spot on your doorstep to while away your Sunday afternoons. Start with a twice baked Montgomery cheese soufflé, before choosing from roast sirloin of beef or roast pork belly, both accompanied by piles of crispy roast potatoes and seasonal vegetables. For those who don't eat meat, the roasted cod and mashed potato or cauliflower risotto offer a deliciously indulgent alternative to traditional options. Make sure you end on a sweet note, the Chaussons aux Pommes to share is a favourite amongst regulars – after all, Sundays are for savouring.

The Surprise

6 Christchurch Terrace, London, SW3 4AJ
thesurprise-chelsea.co.uk

Settle in for a traditional Sunday roast at this classic Chelsea establishment. Starters include a truffled mushroom soup, raclette cheese tart and pork belly croquettes, wonderful to enjoy before tucking into a main of 38-day aged sirloin, Somerset leg of lamb, Devonshire chicken breast or their vegetable wellington, all accompanied by the perfect Sunday trimmings. To satisfy your sweet tooth, finish your feast with the sticky toffee pudding, the mulled english pear tartlet or the decadent belgian chocolate brownie. Make sure to ask for a table near the fireplace for the cosiest experience.

Cantinetta Antinori

4 Harriet Street, London, SW1X 9JR
cantinetta-antinori.uk

For a Sunday Roast the Italian way, head to Cantinetta Antinori. Indulge in Roasted black angus beef in a red wine jus, accompanied by a delightful array of roasted vegetables, crispy potatoes and toasted focaccia bread whilst sipping on a glass of something delicious chosen from the curation available of the finest Antinori wines. Finish with their pistachio tiramisu, which is not only light and delicious, but produced tableside, and will add a touch a theatrical magic to the end of your meal.

Rabbit

172 King's Road, London, SW3 4UP
rabbit-restaurant.com

Time Out voted the Gladwin brothers' Rabbit restaurant one of the best British restaurants in London. It's easy to see why on Sundays, with a dedicated menu that boasts roast beef sirloin, slow roasted pork shoulder and leg of lamb – all sustainably sourced from their biodynamic West Sussex farm and its neighbouring establishments. There's also a confit aubergine and all roasts come with the favourite trimmings of roast potatoes, Yorkshire Pudding and seasonal vegetables.
