Save the date: Chinese New Year Market

1 February, Duke of York Square
dukeofyorksquare.com

Duke of York Square will be celebrating Chinese New Year from 10am–4pm, welcoming in the Year of The Snake, symbolising traits like intuition and strategy, with a special Chinese-edition of the weekly Fine Food Market. Alongside traditional delicacies, enjoy an afternoon of fabulous entertainment including traditional dragon dancers and lion performances, Chinese drummers and celebratory face painting for your little ones.

Paramount Band ft. Joe Lovano & Julian Lage

23 January, Cadogan Hall
cadoganhall.com

Grammy Award-winning titan of jazz saxophone, Joe Lovano and virtuoso guitarist, Julian Lage have enjoyed a long journey of mutual artistic admiration, having first met in 1999 at Yoshi's in Oakland where Joe was performing with McCoy Tyner. Then a child prodigy, Julian's father brought him to the show and it was there he connected with Joe. They kept in touch through the years – even performing together at a private event – then reuniting at Berklee College of Music. Now they are performing together again at Cadogan Hall in a very special concert.

Philip Colbert: The Battle for Lobsteropolis

Until 13 January, Saatchi Gallery
saatchigallery.com

Be sure not to miss this thrilling exhibition by celebrated contemporary artist Philip Colbert. Known for his hyperpop history paintings, Colbert continues his signature battle scene series, where the lobster battles artificial intelligence in the retro-future world Lobsteropolis. In this solo show, Colbert's iconic lobster travels through time and clashes with AI in reimagined historical battle scenes. With these works, Colbert channels the grandeur of ancient battle motifs and Renaissance compositions, where heroic struggle and artistic legacy converge in a retro-futuristic, apocalyptic landscape.

A Good House

11 January – 8 February, Royal Court Theatre
royalcourttheatre.com

A Good House is a thrilling and comedic new work from writer Amy Jephtha about a couple who discover the limits of good neighbourliness and what is required to fit in. In the quaint suburban community of Stillwater, a mysterious shack springs up from the dust with the inhabitants nowhere to be seen. As speculation abounds, new residents Sihle and Bonolo are recruited by their neighbourhood to be the face of a campaign to demolish the shack in this biting satire of community politics.

Snowdrop Kokedama Making Workshop

26 January, Chelsea Physic Garden
chelseaphysicgarden.co.uk

Restore a little greenery in your home this January at Chelsea Physic Garden and immerse yourself in the ancient Japanese art of Kokedama making. Kokedama, which translates to 'moss ball' in Japanese, are small plants which are encased in a moss-covered ball of soil. There are many ways to display these gorgeous creations, from suspending them in the air or sat on decorative trays, the choice is yours! In this workshop you will be creating your own springtime kokedama using seasonal snowdrops. Tickets are £25 per person and include entry to the Garden.

The Wonder of Stevie

17 January, The Pheasantry
pizzaexpresslive.com

The Wonder of Stevie, the music of Stevie Wonder, with sensational vocalist Noel McCalla and the Derek Nash Band, make their Pheasantry debut. The band's sold out launch concert in 2018 led to a continuing series of spectacular sold out shows across London and a UK national tour. Five years later, this show continues to pack in large sold-out crowds. With audiences up on their feet dancing and demanding more and more, it is no 'wonder' why they have made sure to get this "Master Blaster" of a show to make its Chelsea debut.

Pattern Cutting Course

7 January – 25 March, The Fashion School
thefashionschool-uk.com

Join The Fashion School for a four-week course (meeting once a week) and learn how to create a dress from the very beginning. Using a custom-fit dress block based on your own measurements, you will develop the skills to tailor your dress into various styles, adjusting necklines, seam placement and much more. If you have a passion for fashion, are looking to enhance your skills, or perhaps a total newbie and looking for the perfect introduction to pattern cutting and dressmaking, then this is the course for you. Say goodbye to off-the-rack clothing and embrace garments made specifically for you!

Scottish Cèilidh

16 January, National Army Museum
nam.ac.uk

Lace up your ghillies and get in some practice ahead of Burns Night at this special after-hours Cèilidh event. Master traditional Scottish country dances, such as the Dashing White Sergeant or the Reel of the 51st, whose names reference the longstanding relationship between Scotland and the British Army. Celebrate this historic connection with an evening of Scottish dancing and music at our after-hours Cèilidh accompanied by a live Scottish country dance band, expert Cèilidh caller and instructor Simon Wales who will lead an evening of dancing suitable for all abilities. Archival items relating to the Scottish regiments of the British Army will also be on display throughout the night.

Fondue Experience

Throughout January, Bluebird bluebird-restaurant.co.uk

Enjoy a cosy fondue experience at Bluebird, featuring a delightful mix of sweet and savoury options including Truffle baked Baron Bigod, Vacherin du haut Doubs Mont d'or and the Tartiflette Fondue. Plus, to finish your fondue feast, why not go for the Warm Salted Caramel Doughnut Fondu, all available to savour on Bluebird's charming winter terrace, paired with a crisp glass of one of Nyetimber's finest Vintages.

Healthier Hotspots

Three Darlings

241B Pavilion Rd, London SW1X 0BP
threedarlingslondon.com

Should you be looking at incorporating more superfoods into your diet this year, look no further than Jason and Irha Atherton's latest Pavilion Road opening, Three Darlings. With something for every moment of the day, pick from dishes such as the Açai bowl with banana, blueberry, and almonds, the Curried BBQ cauliflower with jalapeno salsa or the Crapaudine beets with burrata and nasturtium. For an energising breakfast or midday pick-me-up, enjoy one of their incredible smoothies such as the Green Goddess or Glow Getter, and you can even add an extra kick of goodness to your signature smoothie with additions of superfoods such as spirulina, collagen, antioxidants, vegan protein powder and amino acids. King's Road Privilege Card members can also enjoy 10% off at the restaurant and bar Mondays to Wednesdays.

Ottolenghi

261 Pavilion Road, London SW1X 0BP
ottolenghi.co.uk

Stop by Ottolenghi's Pavilion Road deli for coffee, breakfast or lunch and "ooh and aah" over their bountiful choice of nourishing dishes ready for dining in or taking away. If settling in for a delicious treat, try the Shakshuka, the scrambled rose harissa tofu or the Dutch pancake with orange coconut and raspberry. But if the weather is on your side, take your coffee on the terrace for the perfect place to people watch with a pastry. Alternatively grab one of their takeaway boxes and fill it full of their mains such as Omega-3 rich Loch-Duart salmon or roasted butternut squash quiche, and salads such as herby lentils with roasted mushrooms and hazelnuts or roasted cauliflower with tamarind and coconut yoghurt and sambal.

Hans' Bar & Grill

164 Pavilion Road, London SW1X 0AW
11cadogangardens.com

Fresh for 2025, Hans' Bar & Grill has introduced delicious new vegan, veggie and plant-based dishes to their already impressive menu. Be tempted by the green side enjoying dishes such as Burrata with roasted heritage carrots, beetroot, golden sultanas and spiced fig balsamic dressing, Broccoli with jumbo couscous, kale, pomegranate, almonds and zhoug or Puy lentils with mushroom and vegetable casserole and garden greens. Hans' master in-house mixologist has also developed a number of mocktails. Quench your thirst with the Garden Spritz of elderflower cordial, cucumber, lemon juice and Double Dutch Soda Water or perhaps you are craving a Sober Mexican with Seedlip 108, lime juice and agave. King's Road Privilege Card members can enjoy 10% off their total bill for lunch and dinner bookings.

Cantinetta Antinori

4 Harriet St, London SW1X 9JR
cantinetta-antinori.uk

If there is one thing you can always count on at Cantinetta Antinori, it is that their seasonally changing menu will always be brimming with delicious dishes. This winter find comfort in their vegetable rich delicacies including the Super Kale salad with avocado, kale, cherry tomatoes, lemon zest and a sprinkling of parmesan. Or, for the full vegan monty, enjoy their chef's special main course, Cavolfiore grigliato - grilled cauliflower with lentils, spinach and a cashew nut gazpacho.

KXU

241 Pavilion Road, London SW1X 0BP
kxu.co.uk

If you are looking to 'HIIT' the nail on the head and get all your wellbeing benefits in one convenient location, KXU has you covered. Take one of their iconic fitness classes, wind down with a relaxing treatment at their renowned Medi-Spa and regain your energy at their salad and smoothie bar where every dish and drink is packed full of nutrients. Goodness favourites on the menu include the breakfast Blueberry & Chia Seed Pudding or for something savoury, the protein packed chopped chicken salad or smoked salmon bagel. The smoothies are equally as nourishing with plentiful choices involving ingredients such as kale, spirulina, cranberries or beetroot and options to add in extra creatine and collagen for that inside out glow. Don't forget that King's Road Privilege Card members can enjoy 15% off medi-spa treatments and 3 classes for £45 at KXU.

Benihana

77 King's Rd, London SW3 4NX
benihanainternational.com

Should Veganuary not be your goal this month, but lighter dining is still your mission, Benihana has the perfect balance for you. For just £16 you can enjoy their deliciously refreshing Chelsea Express Lunch menu offering the chance to dine on some of their signature delicacies including Miso Soup, Seasonal Salad, Pirikara Prawns, California, Avocado and Cucumber Rolls plus their sensational Salmon Sashimi. A lighter treat but still oh so indulgent. The Chelsea Express Lunch menu is available on weekdays until 13 February and is exclusively bookable via this LINK.

Elektra

24 January – 12 April | Duke of York's Theatre
elektraplay.com

Starring Brie Larson, Daniel Fish directs the first major revival in over a decade of Sophokles' electrifying and timeless play, ELEKTRA. Elektra, haunted by her father's assassination, is consumed by grief; a need for survival; and a thirst for vengeance. When her long lost brother Orestes at last returns, she urges him to a savage and terrifying conclusion, but at what cost?

Burns Night Feast

25 January | No.3 Rooftop
smithsofsmithfield.co.uk

Celebrate the great Scottish bard Robert Burns at No.3 Rooftop. Indulge in a six-course feast featuring a mixture of classic Scottish dishes alongside some modern twists and a complimentary cocktail from sponsors Glenlivet. But that's not all, during your meal you will be serenaded with traditional Scottish tunes from an authentic Scottish bagpiper and listen to readings of Robert Burns' poetry.

London Art Fair

22 January – 26 January | Islington
londonartfair.co.uk

New Contemporaries

15 January – 23 March | ICA
newcontemporaries.org.uk

Marking 75 years of New Contemporaries, the annual exhibition returns to the ICA. New Contemporaries is a unique platform, which provides emerging and early career UK-based artists with a wider audience to their work. This edition features 35 artists who have been selected through an open call by artists Liz Johnson Artur, Perminder Kaur and Amalia Pica. The works on show offer an overview of urgent lived concerns, interests and social realities from this generation of artists.

For m

The Years

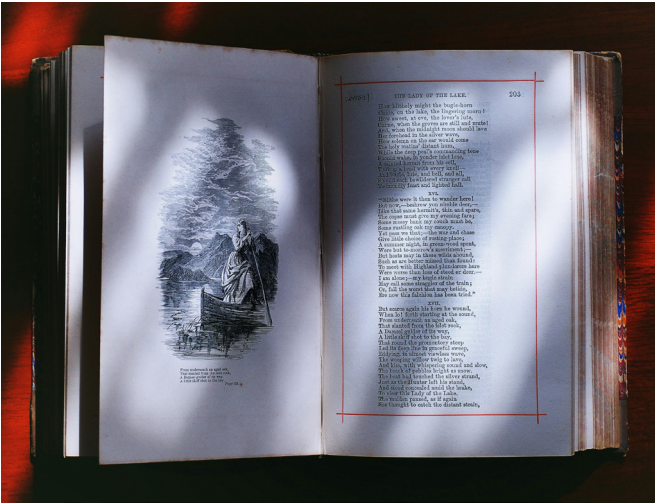

24 January – 29 April | Harold Pinter Theatre
theyearsplay.com

Annie Ernaux’s Booker-nominated book ‘Les Années’ is an artful autobiography that traces her journey from childhood in postwar France to old age in the post-9/11 era. Elegantly adapted by director Eline Arbo, the English-language stage version The Years transfers to the Harold Pinter Theatre after an acclaimed run at The Almeida in the summer.

TS Eliot Prize Shortlist Readings

12 January | Southbank Centre
southbankcentre.co.uk

The TS Eliot Prize is the world’s most prestigious prize for poetry. Inaugurated in 1993 to celebrate the Poetry Book Society’s 40th birthday and to honour its founding poet, the prize is now awarded by the TS Eliot Foundation. This year, the shortlist has been chosen by judges Mimi Khalvati (Chair), Hannah Sullivan and Anthony Joseph.
