Easter Feasts

Bunny approved bites: the best Easter Menus to enjoy in Chelsea over the Bank Holiday weekend.

La Maison Ani

The Carlton Tower, 1 Cadogan Place, SW1X 9PY
laisonanilondon.com

Add a little French flair to your Easter celebrations and book your table at La Maison Ani. With a mouthwatering menu brimming with choices, it is almost impossible to pick which tempting bite to try but take our word for it and go full French. Start by ordering the Soupe à l'oignon gratinée or Escargots de Bourgogne as your starters, follow with a salad course - the Salade de homard et sauce cocktail (Lobster salad) must be your go-to - and, for the main event, enjoy Sole meunière, Poulet rôti, with foie gras and sauce Périgueux topped in seasonal truffle or, for an indulgent vegan option, be sure to select the Risotto aux champignons, before a finale à la française; the Tarte Tatin for two.

Manicomio

83-85 Duke Of York Square, SW3 4LY
manicomio.co.uk

Boasting an enormous sun-drenched alfresco terrace in the heart of Duke of York Square, Manicomio is surely the spot for the summer optimists over Easter weekend. With specials to set the occasion using only the best sustainable British ingredients, diners can enjoy three sumptuous courses. Start with Grilled New Season's Asparagus with soft egg, fresh peas and a mustard dressing, follow with Slow Roast Leg of Lamb topping potato purée, caramelised Tropea onion and drizzled in Rosemary Jus, and finish with Semifreddo Al Torroncino composed of redcurrant and chocolate sauce.

Three Darlings

threedarlingslondon.com

Tucked onto Pavilion Road and helmed by acclaimed restaurateurs Chef Jason Atherton and Irha Atherton, Three Darlings brings all the fabulousness of fine dining (without the price tag), and blends only the best ingredients in an awakening of flavour. This Easter, treat yourselves to tempting selections from their à la carte menu, starting with the Grilled Puntarelle with whipped smoked goat curd and anchovies, sharing the Chateaubriand for two and finishing with one of two incredible frozen desserts, the Custard Infused Soft Serve with rhubarb and vanilla compote or, to elevate your frozen fancy, opt for the Soft Serve with Umai caviar and hazelnut and just thank us later.

Ixchel

33H King's Road, SW3 4LX
ixchellondon.com

For Easter feasting a la Mexicana, look no further than London's first, and perhaps only, Mexican-style Sunday roast at Ixchel. From Braised Lamb Shank Barbacoa to Grilled Chicken Adobado, all mains are served alongside their renowned crispy potatoes (if you know, you know), roasted vegetables, queso fundido and mini corn jalapeño bread. Alongside the mains, and certainly not to be missed, are Ixchel classics, small starting plates of Guacamole and Rock Shrimp Tempura, plus a selection of Head Chef Ximena Gayosso Gonzalez's incredible tacos & quesadillas.

The Fuji Grill

Beaverbrook Town House, SW1X 9PJ
beaverbrooktownhouse.co.uk

Fresh for spring, The Fuji Grill has just announced a brand-new Tapasu menu featuring taco-style Temaki bites alongside some updates to Town House favourites. This fresh take on Japanese cuisine is perfectly timed for special sharing dinners to book with loved ones this Easter. Options involve Sunakku bites, including Prawn Tempura and Padron Peppers, before moving onto small plates of Sashimi, Tartare and Grill selections. If unsure what to pick, the A5 Wagyu and winter truffle Hispi Cabbage is a perfect place to start. Then save room for the tantalising Temaki bites, fresh on the scene with flavours of Salmon Avocado, Wild Unagi, Hamachi and Scallop XO on offer among others to explore.

The Cadogan Arms

298 King's Road, SW3 5UG
thecadoganarms.london
